

MUSTIMUHW

Software for Indigenous Child & Family Services

At Mustimuhw, we understand the importance of providing Indigenous organizations with the appropriate tools to support their work. We're not just a vendor. We come from community. We embrace the integration of the lessons of traditional wellness into powerful, leading-edge software, created by First Nations, expressly for First Nations.

Child and Family Services Case Management

When it comes to case management systems, one size does not fit all. Mustimuhw fits you, not the other way around. We work with you to configure and setup a system that supports your service delivery models, with all the tools optimized for your tasks, purpose-fit for your needs and built around your unique ways of working.

We continue to develop our understanding of new and evolving approaches to the Indigenous Child & Family Services, aligning with new approaches to ensure our software meets your needs both today and in the future.

Flexible and easy to use, our system allows you to capture detailed information, while helping to set organizational standards to drive efficiency and accountability. Mustimuhw puts the power to improve the wellness of your people back in your hands.
